Dear Year 11

The countdown is on. With only eight weeks until your GCSE exams, you are standing at one of the most important moments of your school journey. What you do now, the choices you make, the effort you put in, the days you show up, will shape the opportunities waiting for you after West Park School.

Think about this: every single lesson between now and your exams is a chance to strengthen your understanding, boost your confidence and move one step closer to the grades you want. Eight weeks might sound like a lot but in school time it goes fast. Every day matters.

When you attend every lesson, you give yourself:

- The knowledge you need to feel confident in the exam hall
- The chance to ask questions and fill any gaps
- The support of teachers who want you to succeed
- A routine that keeps you focused and motivated
- The best possible shot at achieving your goals

You have worked hard to get this far. Don't let missed days hold you back now. Show up for yourself. Show up on time. Show up for your future. Show up because you deserve the best possible outcome.

These next eight weeks are your opportunity to prove to yourself what you are capable of. We believe in you — now it's time for you to believe in yourself.

Let's make every day count.

Kind regards

Scott McGregor
